Confidential Report

The Admission Committee would appreciate a confidential statement from you concerning the applicant named above, evaluating his/her ability to undertake graduate study in computer science. We would appreciate a frank statement regarding the potential and limitations of this applicant. Specific statements are generally more helpful than routine praise; comparisons to other successful graduates of your school are also helpful.

It is with great pleasure I write this recommendation letter for Dheeraj, Frontend Developer.

I have known him for the past two years, he was named when we need to solve complex problems with his coding. He always tries to complete his task 100% with unit testing and responsible till it goes production.

He always tries to give a spark to other Developers logically to make their task easy.

Dheeraj have attended some of the third party calls to integrate their components in our site, where succeeded it by connecting remotely with full satisfaction of third party and client which made huge revenue to the client,

With these optimistic learning and high spirit qualities, I would like to support Dheeraj to pursue his Master's in your university.
